Content Management Solutions by EgoCX

Stop forcing your business logic into rigid templates. Choose CCContinue CMS™ by EgoCX with its dynamic Minicodes™, dynamic semantic taxonomies, AI-powered personalization, and API-first core. We empower you to build networks of sites that are as intelligent as they are scalable.

Designed from the ground up for multisite, multilingual, and multi-tenant architectures, our platform leverages artificial intelligence to transform how organizations structure, connect, and deploy digital content.

Content Management Solutions by EgoCX

We understand that no two organizations are alike. That is why we have organized our solutions across six strategic axes, allowing you to find the exact configuration that fits your ecosystem. The "By Industry" axis allows you to dive into vertical-specific deployments—from healthcare and finance to media, manufacturing, and education—each optimized with pre-configured taxonomies and compliance workflows. The "By Audience" axis tailors the experience for different internal roles, whether you are an Enterprise IT manager requiring strict governance, a Marketer demanding personalization, or a Developer seeking pure API flexibility.

Beyond verticals and roles, you must also align with technical realities. Our "By Deployment" and "By Scale" classifications ensure you can deploy on cloud, on-premise, or at the edge, scaling from a single startup site to a global network of thousands. Finally, the "By Specialization" and "By Tech Stack" axes guarantee that whether you need a headless DXP or a traditional PHP-based system, our platform integrates effortlessly with your JavaScript, Python, or DevOps ecosystems.

The result is a unified repository—our Source of Truth—where all your classified assets reside, ready to be transcluded and orchestrated across any of your digital touchpoints without duplication or inconsistency.

Ready to build your intelligent site network? Explore our classification axes to find your perfect match, or contact our team to schedule a personalized demo that addresses your specific use case. Start transforming your digital infrastructure today.

At EgoCX, we believe that content should not be siloed—it should flow, connect, and evolve. We are not just giving you a tool; we are providing the framework for a sustainable, AI-driven digital future. Join the organizations that are already powering their multisite ecosystems with CCContinue CMS™.

Our architecture redefines the standard CMS experience through a suite of advanced capabilities. The system natively supports transclusion, allowing content to exist in one place while being displayed and contextualized across hundreds of sites simultaneously. We combine this with Generative AI that assists with content creation, automatic translation, and semantic structuring. The multisite engine gives you granular control over domains, languages, and user roles, while our semantic taxonomy engine adapts to your specific industry vocabulary, ensuring every piece of content is discoverable and correctly classified. All of this is delivered through a headless, hybrid, or traditional deployment model, supported by robust APIs and webhooks that integrate seamlessly into your existing tech stack.
